

1. Konjunksjoner — Conjunctions Sideordnende — Coordinating
og — and Jeg liker kaffe og te. — I like coffee and tea.
men — but Han er ung, men veldig smart. — He is young, but very smart.
eller — or Vil du ha kaffe eller te? — Do you want coffee or tea?
for — for, because — literary/formal "because"; does NOT invert word order Jeg gikk hjem, for jeg var trøtt. — I went home, for I was tired.
så — so, then Det regnet, så vi ble hjemme. — It rained, so we stayed home.
samt — as well as, and (formal) — more formal than "og"; used in lists and official writing Mat samt drikke er inkludert. — Food as well as drinks are included.
både ... og — both ... and Både barn og voksne likte filmen. — Both children and adults liked the film.
enten ... eller — either ... or Enten kommer du nå, eller så drar vi. — Either you come now, or we leave.
verken ... eller — neither ... nor Han liker verken fisk eller kjøtt. — He likes neither fish nor meat.
Underordnende — Subordinating ⚠ Subordinating conjunctions cause leddsetning (sub-clause) word order: subject + ikke + verb.
fordi — because Jeg ble hjemme fordi jeg var syk. — I stayed home because I was sick.
at — that — introduces a noun clause (see also Section 4) Jeg tror at det stemmer. — I think that it's correct.
hvis / dersom — if — "dersom" is more formal; both mean conditional "if" Hvis det regner, tar jeg paraply. — If it rains, I'll take an umbrella.
selv om — even though, although Han gikk ut selv om det regnet. — He went out even though it was raining.
mens — while, whereas Hun leste mens han lagde mat. — She read while he cooked.
siden — since (causal / temporal) Siden du er her, kan du hjelpe. — Since you're here, you can help.
slik at — so that Snakk sakte slik at alle forstår. — Speak slowly so that everyone understands.
uten at — without (+ clause) Han gikk uten at noen la merke til det. — He left without anyone noticing.

2. Preposisjoner — Prepositions
Sted — Location
i — in, inside Boka er i sekken. — The book is in the bag. Hun bor i Oslo. — She lives in Oslo.
på — on, at — "on" a surface; "at" a place (på jobb, på skolen) Koppen er på bordet. — The cup is on the table. Jeg er på jobb. — I'm at work.
ved — by, near, at Huset ligger ved sjøen. — The house is by the sea.
bak — behind Katten sitter bak sofaen. — The cat is sitting behind the sofa.
foran — in front of Bilen er foran huset. — The car is in front of the house.
mellom — between, among Banken er mellom butikken og kafeen. — The bank is between the shop and the café.
over — over, above Lampa henger over bordet. — The lamp hangs over the table.
under — under, below Hunden ligger under bordet. — The dog is under the table.
blant — among, amongst Hun er populær blant vennene. — She is popular among friends.
innenfor — within, inside (a boundary) — emphasizes being within limits or boundaries Innenfor budsjettet. — Within the budget. Bli innenfor ! — Stay inside!
utenfor — outside (a boundary) De ventet utenfor døra. — They waited outside the door.
Retning — Direction / Particles
til — to, for Jeg drar til Bergen. — I'm going to Bergen. En gave til deg. — A gift for you.
fra — from Hun er fra Norge. — She is from Norway.
ut — out Gå ut ! — Go out!
inn — in (direction) Kom inn ! — Come in!
opp — up Gå opp trappen. — Go up the stairs.
ned — down Han gikk ned til sjøen. — He walked down to the sea.
gjennom — through Vi kjørte gjennom tunnelen. — We drove through the tunnel.
mot — towards, against Han gikk mot døra. — He walked towards the door. De spilte mot hverandre. — They played against each other.

forbi — past, by Vi kjørte forbi huset. — We drove past the house.
Tid — Time
etter — after Etter middag. — After dinner.
før — before Før klokka ti. — Before ten o'clock.
under — during Under krigen. — During the war.
i — in, for (duration) I to timer. — For two hours. I juni. — In June.
på — on (days); in (time expressions) På mandag. — On Monday. På morgenen. — In the morning.
om — in (future time) Om to timer. — In two hours. (from now) siden — ago, since To dager siden . — Two days ago.
Forhold — Relationship for — for (purpose/benefit) Det er bra for deg. — It's good for you.
med — with Jeg bor med familien min. — I live with my family.
av — of, off, by En av oss. — One of us. Boka er skrevet av Ibsen. — The book is written by Ibsen.
uten — without Kaffe uten melk. — Coffee without milk.
om — about En bok om Norge. — A book about Norway.

3. Pronomen — Pronouns

Personlige pronomen — Personal Pronouns

ENGLISH	SUBJECT	OBJECT	POSSESSIVE (EN / EI / ET / FL)
I / me / my	jeg	meg	min / mi / mitt / mine
you / your	du	deg	din / di / ditt / dine
he / him / his	han	ham	hans
she / her	hun	henne	hennes
it (en-word)	den	den	dens (rare)
it (et-word)	det	det	dets (rare)
we / us / our	vi	oss	vår / vår / vårt / våre
you (pl) / your	dere	dere	deres
they / them / their	de	dem	deres

💡 Possessives agree with the noun they modify, not the owner.
min bok (en-word) · mi bok (feminine) · mitt hus (et-word) · mine bøker (plural)

Refleksiv: seg / sin / si / sitt / sine

The reflexive refers back to the 3rd-person subject of the same clause. Used for he/she/it/they when referring to their own things.

FORM	AGREES WITH	EXAMPLE
seg	object (himself/herself/themselves)	Han vasker seg . — He washes himself.
sin	en-word noun	Han leser boken sin . — He reads his (own) book.
si	ei-word noun (feminine)	Hun leser boka si . — She reads her (own) book.
sitt	et-word noun	Hun liker huset sitt . — She likes her (own) house.
sine	plural noun	De elsker barna sine . — They love their (own) children.

✓ SIN = OWN

Han vasker bilen sin.
He washes his own car.

✗ HANS = SOMEONE ELSE'S

Han vasker bilen hans.
He washes his (another man's) car.

⚠ seg/sin is ONLY for 3rd person. For "I/you/we" use meg/deg/oss and min/mi/mitt/mine, din/di/ditt/dine, vår/vårt/våre.
Jeg vasker bilen min. (NOT *sin) — I wash my car.

4. Å si "that" — Ways to Say "That"

at — that (conjunction) — connects a verb of thinking/saying/knowing to a clause Jeg vet at du har rett. — I know that you are right.
Hun sa at hun skulle komme. — She said that she would come.
Jeg tror at det stemmer. — I think that it's correct.

💡 "at" can often be dropped in casual speech: "Jeg tror det stemmer."

som — that / which / who (relative pronoun) — introduces a relative clause describing a noun Mannen som bor her. — The man who lives here.
Boka som jeg leser. — The book that I'm reading.
Huset som ligger ved sjøen. — The house that is by the sea.

💡 Norwegian uses "som" for who, which, and that — one word covers all three!

det — that (demonstrative / pronoun) — pointing at something; "that thing"
Det er riktig. — That is correct.
Hva er det? — What is that?
Jeg liker det. — I like that.

den / det ... som — the one that — picks out a specific item from a group
Den som jobber hardt, lykkes. — The one who works hard succeeds.
Det som skjedde var trist. — What (that which) happened was sad.

AT → AFTER VERBS Jeg vet at ... Jeg tror at ... Hun sa at ...	SOM → AFTER NOUNS Mannen som ... Boka som ... Stedet som ...
--	---

5. "It" og Demonstrativer — "It" & Demonstratives

Den / Det / De / Dem — "It" & "They"

den — it (for en-words)

Hvor er boka? Den er på bordet. — Where is the book? It's on the table.

det — it (for et-words); also dummy subject

Huset er fint. Det er stort. — The house is nice. It is big.

Det regner. — It's raining. (dummy subject — no real "it")

Det er mange folk her. — There are many people here. (existential "det")

de — they (subject)

De bor i Oslo. — They live in Oslo.

dem — them (object)

Jeg ser dem. — I see them.

💡 Gender rule: den → masculine/feminine nouns (bilen, stolen, boka) · det → neuter nouns (huset, bordet, barnet)

Denne / Dette / Disse — Demonstratives

	EN-WORD	ET-WORD	PLURAL
this / these	denne	dette	disse
that / those	den (der)	det (der)	de (der)

💡 Plain den/det/de can mean "that/those," but to clearly contrast with "this/these," add der:
den der bilen = that car (over there) · de der folkene = those people

denne — this (en-word)

Denne boka er god. — This book is good.

dette — this (et-word)

Dette huset er gammelt. — This house is old.

Hva er dette? — What is this?

disse — these

Disse bøkene er mine. — These books are mine.

6. Da vs. Når — When

DA = SINGLE PAST EVENT

A specific time in the past; happened once.

NÅR = REPEATED / FUTURE / QUESTION

Habitual, future, or asking "when?"

da — when (one-time past); then

Da jeg var barn, bodde vi i Bergen. — When I was a child, we lived in Bergen.

Da hun kom hjem, var det mørkt. — When she came home, it was dark.

Jeg spiste, og da gikk jeg. — I ate, and then I left. (da = then)

når — when (repeated / future); whenever Når det regner, tar jeg paraply. — Whenever it rains, I take an umbrella.

Når jeg blir stor, vil jeg bli lege. — When I grow up, I want to be a doctor.

Når kommer du? — When are you coming? (question)

Quick test: Can you replace "when" with "whenever"? → Use når.
Is it a specific past moment? → Use da.
Asking a question with "when"? → Always når.
Huskeregel: Den gang da, hver gang når. — That time: da. Every time: når.

7. Flerbruksord — Words with Multiple Meanings

som

① that/which/who (relative): Gutten som leker. — The boy who plays.

② as, like (comparison): Hvit som snø. — White as snow.

③ like (resemblance): Det ser ut som regn. — It looks like rain.

④ like (comparison of people/things): Han er ikke som broren sin. — He is not like his brother.

⑤ as (role): Hun jobber som lege. — She works as a doctor.

om

① about: En bok om Norge. — A book about Norway.

② if (indirect question): Jeg lurer på om det stemmer. — I wonder if it's true.

③ in (future time): Om to timer. — In two hours.

④ in (time of day): Vi pleier å gå tur om kvelden. — We usually go for a walk in the evening.

av

① of: En av oss. — One of us.

② off: Ta av deg skoene. — Take off your shoes.

③ of/from (material): Laget av tre. — Made of wood.

at ① that (conjunction): Jeg vet at du kan. — I know that you can.

Only one meaning — but appears everywhere! See Section 4.

jo

— untranslatable emphasis particle; adds "as you know / obviously / actually"

Du vet jo det. — You know that (obviously / don't you?).

Det er jo sant! — It IS true! (reinforcing)

Jo, det stemmer. — Yes (contradicting a negative). ("jo" = yes to a negative question)

vel

① presumably, I suppose (particle): Det er vel sant. — That's probably/presumably true.

② well (filler): Vel, det er slik det er. — Well, that's how it is.

nok

① enough: Vi har nok mat. — We have enough food.

② probably (particle): Det er nok sant. — That's probably true.

da

(beyond Section 6)

① when (past): Da jeg var ung... — When I was young...

② then: Hva gjør vi da? — What do we do then?

③ emphasis: Kom da! — Come on! / Det var da rart. — That was strange (indeed).

jo ... jo / dess ... dess — the more ... the more

Jo mer du øver, jo bedre blir du. — The more you practice, the better you get.

Dess større, dess bedre. — The bigger, the better.

noen / noe — some, any, someone, something

Er det noen her? — Is anyone here? (noen = someone/anyone)

Har du noe vann? — Do you have some/any water? (noe = something/any, uncountable)

Noen bøker. — Some books. (noen + plural = some)

8. Spørreord — Question Words

Grunnleggende — Basic Question Words

hva — what

Hva heter du? — What is your name?

Hva skjedde? — What happened?

hvem — who

Hvem er det? — Who is that?

Hvem snakker du med? — Who are you talking to?

hvor — where

Hvor bor du? — Where do you live?

Hvor er toalettet? — Where is the toilet?

hvorfor — why

Hvorfor gråter du? — Why are you crying?

Hvorfor ikke? — Why not?

når — when (question) — see also Section 6 for da vs når

Når begynner filmen? — When does the film start?

hvilken / hvilket / hvilke — which — agrees with noun gender: hvilken (en) · hvilket (et) · hvilke (pl)

Hvilken bok liker du best? — Which book do you like best?

Hvilket språk snakker du? — Which language do you speak?

Hvilke farger liker du? — Which colors do you like?

Hvordan vs. Hvor — Ways to Say "How"

⚠ Norwegian splits English "how" into two words with different roles.

hvordan — how (in what way / method) — asks about manner, process, or method

Hvordan har du det? — How are you?

Hvordan lager du pizza? — How do you make pizza?

Hvordan kom du hit? — How did you get here?

Hvordan fungerer det? — How does it work?

hvor — how (+ adjective/adverb = degree) — asks about degree, amount, quantity, distance, speed, etc.

Hvor gammel er du? — How old are you?

Hvor langt er det? — How far is it?

Hvor lenge har du bodd her? — How long have you lived here?

Hvor mye koster det? — How much does it cost?

Hvor mange barn har du? — How many children do you have?

Hvor fort kjørte du? — How fast were you driving?

HVORDAN = "IN WHAT WAY?"

Hvordan lærte du norsk?

How did you learn Norwegian?

→ answer describes a method

HVOR + ADJ = "TO WHAT DEGREE?"

Hvor vanskelig er norsk?

How difficult is Norwegian?

→ answer describes a degree

💡 Rule of thumb: If "how" asks about degree, amount, or quantity → hvor (hvor mye, hvor mange, hvor langt...).

If "how" asks about method or manner → hvordan.

"Hvor" literally means "where" — think of "where on the scale?" to remember.

9. Adverb — Common Adverbs

Frekvens og tid — Frequency & Time

alltid	always	aldri	never fortsatt	still	ennå	yet, still
allerede	already	igjen	again
nå	now	først	first
nettopp	just (now)	sjelden	rarely
nylig	recently	deretter	thereafter
ofte	often	vanligvis	usually
av og til	sometimes

Grad — Degree

veldig	very	ganske	quite mye	a lot, much	nesten	almost
bare / kun	only	akkurat	exactly
omtrent	approximately	meget	very (formal)

Måte og holdning — Manner & Attitude

også	also	sammen	together
kanskje	maybe	gjerne	gladly, happily
selv	oneself, even	alene	alone
slik / sånn	like this/that	helst	preferably dessverre	unfortunately	heller	rather

Logikk — Connectors

derfor	therefore	likevel	nevertheless ellers	otherwise	dessuten	furthermore
altså	so, thus	derimot	however, on the other hand
nemlig	namely, you see	dermed	thus, thereby
imidlertid	however (formal)	like	equal(ly), the same; as in like ... som